Edge Notes.

I failed to write last week, but I will attempt to send in a few lines this week.

Rev. Stewart preached Saturday and Sunday on Payne Prairie. All were glad to have him with us.

We had a very nice rain Sunday.
The wind and rain injured the cotton some.

There was singing at new Liberty Sunday evening. The visitors were Mrs. Belle Newman and Miss Fraisier of Maey; Mr. Will Milton and family from Shiloh, and Mr.
Ed Elliott and family of Cottonwood, were visiting relatives in this community Sunday.

Prof. R. L. Pounds will start his school here the 1st of November.

Miss Edie Folks was in Edge
this morning.

One of Mr. Folks' children was very sick last week but is up at this writing.

Peek's Bad Boy.

An Ancient Riddle.

[Houston Post.]

Many years ago an eccentric woman named Lucy King Taunton was promised a prize by a prominent merchant if she would compose a riddle from the Bible which he could not guess. The following is the result:

Adam God made out of dust
But thought it best to make me first,
So I was made before the man
To answer God's most holy plan;
My body God did make complete,
Without arms, hands or feet;
My ways and acts he did control,
But to my body gave no soul,
A living being I became,
And Adam gave to me my name.
I from his presence then withdrew
And more of Adam never knew.
I did my Maker's low obey.
Nor from it ever went astray.
Thousands of miles I go in fear,
But seldom on the earth appear.
For purpose wise which God did see,
He put a living soul in me.
A soul from me my God did claim,
And took that soul from me again,
For when from me that soul had fled
I was the same as when first made,
And without head, feet or soul
I travel on from pole to pole.
I labor hard by day and night
To fallen man to give delight.
For thousands of people young and old,
No right or wrong can I conceive—
The Scriptures I cannot believe,
Although my name therein is found,
They are to me an empty sound.
No fear of death doth trouble me,
And happiness I never shall see.
To heaven I never can go,
Nor to the grave nor hell below.
Now when these lines you slowly read,
Go search your Bible with full speed,
For that my name is recorded there,
I honestly to you do declare.

A devoted Hap,
Violet Houston.

Millican News.

A cold wave struck us Sunday and was a gentle reminder that winter was approaching.

The health of our town is a great deal better.

The Baptist church supper was a success—realization fifty-two dollars after expenses were paid.

Mrs. C. B. McGregor went to Houston Saturday.

Miss Lena Holliday left for Chappell Hill Sunday.

Sam W. Meredith is at home on a furlough.

Mrs. M. L. Spann visited relatives in Dallas last week.

Miss Janie Lewis left Saturday to take charge of her school at Min-ter Springs.

Sam S. Beene returned from Bryan Tuesday.

Little Buck Dawson died Sunday afternoon and was laid to rest Monday in the Wheat burying ground.
We extend sympathy to his bereav-ing mother.

Mrs. W. H. Dunlap went to Bryan Sunday.

A Bit of London Weather.

Our weather is grown decidedly good for the last three days—very brisk, clear and dry. Before that it was as bad as weather at any time need be. Long continued plunges of wet, then clammy, glarry days on days of half wet (a kind of weather peculiar to London, and fully uglier than whole wet)—a world of black sunless plaster (a soft mixture, neither one thing nor another), very unpleasant to move about in! The incessant travel makes everything mud here, in spite of all that clats (a clat, a wooden scraper) and besoms can do. A kind of mud, too, which is as fine as paint and actually almost sticks like a kind of paint. I took, at last, into the country, with old clothes and trousers folded up. There the mud was natural mud, and far less of it; indeed little of it in comparison with other country.
We dry again in a single day of brisk wind.—Carlyle Cor. in Atlantic.

Not Very Pathetic.

An Ohio woman visiting Boston for the first time has been doing the sights.
"I had my greatest thrill down at Copp's Hill burying ground," she said.
"Yes, that's just the place for the historic emotions," commented her interlocutor. She smiled.

"As soon as my sister-in-law and I got into the place," she said, "I found myself almost stepping upon a grave with an inscription on a queer little iron cover sort of tomb. I jumped back, feeling the way you do when you step on a grave, and read the inscription, just three initials, no name or date.
'Isn't it pathetic?' I said to my sister-in-law. 'Oh, I don't know,' she answered. 'B. W. W. means Boston Water Works.'"—Boston Transcript.

Hourglass in a London Church.

Nearly everybody is aware that at one time it was the custom in many churches to regulate the length of the sermon by an hourglass, which stood on the pulpit immediately fronting the preacher. Quite a number of these curious relics are preserved in various ecclesiastical edifices throughout the land, but the British and Foreign Sailors' church, situated in what was formerly Ratcliff highway, is the only one possessing four. They are in perfect preservation, and are fixed all together in a framework of solid brass.—London
